Establish or access systems for water, electricity, mail delivery, sanitation, and sewer, including septic system design. Adapt to life near farms—from signage and traffic rules to noise, odors, and dust. Understand effects of seasonal weather and wind on rural structures. Plan a windbreak or shelterbelt. Minimize damage by insects and animals. Assure safety from lightning, fire, wind, winter weather, and crime. Develop outdoor living areas—including decks, patios, gardens, and areas for wildlife preservation. Plan and manage a farm pond. Construct amenities, such as a bus shelter for children.
